Task 2. Do you remember the Men in Black activity that talked about a Foley artist. What a great job. There are many jobs in the music industry. Consider what type of work these people might have to do. Under each one, write down the requirements of that particular job. Give careful thought to all of their responsibilities.

Sound Engineer

Conductor

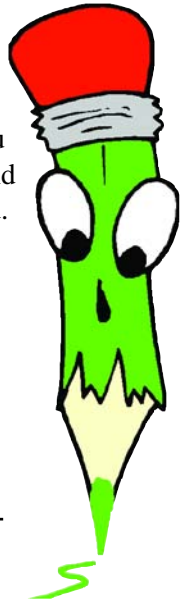

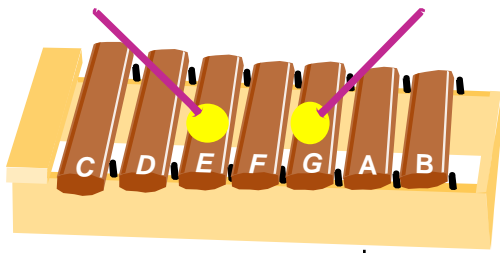

Lead Guitarist

Task 3. In the song Yesterday, you needed to consider the way a song could make you feel. On a tuned percussion instrument try composing 2 tunes. Make one happy and one sad. Consider how fast or slow, loud or soft and high or low each will be. Write down the notes you choose in the boxes provided. Play your tune for your friends and see if they can guess which song is happy and which song is sad.

Use these notes	Write the notes of your tune here. Work out a way to show which are long notes and short notes.
Happy C D E G
Sad D E F A

Task 4. Banjo the Bunyip certainly was a character. Try to match these instrument names, or the sound they make, with an animal and give your animal a name. The animals can live on land, in the sea, or fly in the air. They can be real or imaginary. Make sure the first letter in the name of the instrument matches that of the animal you have chosen. How about Triangle the T-Rex? What do you think of Bell the Butterfly?

Recorder the _____

Tambourine the _____

Bells the _____

Claves the _____

You could even make up some of your own instruments and animals.
